All,

Once in a great while you run across someone who's worth a hardy recommendation. Gary Brown owns a small business called Amerivet Services which has saved my bacon on several occasions. Gary does mobile welding and even repaired our hydraulic lift for me. Everything I've asked him to do he's completed professionally, quickly, and reasonably. His work is high quality and I've yet to challenge him with anything he couldn't handle.

Take a look at his website and see what he can do. Maybe next time you need something fixed or fabricated give him a call.

Hope this is helpful,

Mike
