To whom it may concern:

Rafael Orozco has been working for our company as Project Manager, during 2009. I'd like to express that him, is one of the most excellent workers whom I have met in our company. Impressed by his versatility, I am also especially touched by his conscientious way of organize all aspects concerning in his management.

Among his responsibilities are the following: Handle the construction, start up and technical activities, including duties with regards to the contractors performance; development a quality control to relieve any errors and omissions in construction project, Monitor and implementation of the construction work according to project technical schedules and budgets, document any field problems associated with equipment installation and also will be responsible for tracking quantities. Coordinate activities with sub-contractors, workers, engineers, architect and owner.

In short, Mr. Orozco, as an outstanding worker, has showed great potentialities in academic learning. He will surely be part important of our team and I'm sure he will be passing all academic labels. I strongly recommend in your program. If you need any further information about this information, please feel free to contact me.

Yours sincerely,
