I have worked together with Watergate Painting and specifically David and Darlene Tillem owners of Watergate Painting for over 15 years. They are experts in selecting and applying the proper high quality coatings for the application desired. Their safety record and knowing how to get work done without interruption to operations is amazing. Once given a scope of work they handle it from there with zero follow-up.

They are extremely professional and their knowledge of prep, prime, and finish is the best I have ever seen. They transformed our plant. Their prices are fair and they always get the job done on time and within scope.

They have successfully coated over 100,000 square feet of floor at Maxwell House while I was the Plant Manager. They are the best and most talented painting contractor I have ever worked with by far.

Their experience in the industry is unparalleled from residential to commercial to industrial to major infrastructure like large bridge painting projects. You will be impressed by their pricing, quality, and skills around coating.

They are able to analyze and come up with practical solutions for complex issues based on their diverse experiences.

Please consider them for bids and if they are privileged enough to get your bid you will not be disappointed.
