RE: Pikes Peak Regional Development Center

Pikes Peak Regional Development Center (RDC) located at 2880 International Circle, Colorado Springs, CO, 80910 has employed the services of Wells and West General Contractors for two of our last three interior renovation projects. The scope of the first project exceeded $1.2 million and the second; while significantly smaller involved strict time requirements, necessity to work around furniture, coordination with the U. S. Senate/Federal security agencies and completion during active work hours. Both of these projects were completed ahead of schedule and under project budget.

As Building Official I am the appointed official responsible for the operation of the RDC and also the official responsible for licensure, plan examination and in-progress inspections of all construction projects within El Paso County. In these capacities I can state without hesitation that the construction practices, construction staff and billing procedures of Wells and West General Contractors are excellent.

Over the years I have held several similar construction related positions including South County Operations Manager, Sarasota FL; Building Commissioner, City of Lynchburg Virginia; Chief Building Code Enforcement Official, Cary NC; and Director of Land Development, Chattanooga TN and have learned to hire companies whose staff exhibit a specific set of core values in addition to the company meeting specific bid requirements on paper. Wells and West is a company whose employees exhibit professionalism, honesty, good work ethic, and pride in a finished product that is not only done on time but constructed correctly.

Very truly yours,

Henry Yankowski
Regional Building Official
