I met Linda several years ago as a business colleague, and through that relationship I developed a deep respect for her as a person. She is very detailed, attentive to her clients' needs, and is not timid to put in long hours to see that a project gets completed. But more than that, Linda is a genuine person who really cares about the people she meets and works with. I highly recommend her for your business needs, she will not disappoint! ...Penny Mustard, Mustard Seed Consulting.
