Whom it Concerns:

Dorn Engineering & Development, LLC is a full service contractor established in January 2009, with a particular focus on civil engineering and development. We strive on forming a long lasting partnership with local government and community groups.

Our capabilities and scope of work include but not limited to demo and placement of concrete, asphaltic pavement, shotcrete, excavation, grading, rip rapped slopes, block walls, and soil cement. We also have a frame up finish crew for ground up construction or tenant improvements self-performing each phase beginning from placement of concrete foundation, frame up of wood or steel members, inside and outside wall finishes including texture, stucco, and finish paint application.

Our intention is to provide a repair, either civil or structural, that is an improvement over that of the original design at a cost structure that fits at or below the client's budgetary needs. Our cost engineering results in saving individual communities as much as 100,000's of dollars per repair contract. Part of this comes from our local partnerships with large General Contractors such as Ashton whom agreed to supply soil cement with our own import from their offsite production plant for major city and community storm wash repairs occurring during the 2011 through 2013 years. Further savings to our clients is borne from of our abilities to self-perform every aspect of the project with a key focus and detailed planning often resulting in an expedited construction schedule while maintaining a high quality product result.

We had been using Shirley's Plan Room and were familiar with other services like Dodge and Reed to procure construction drawing and documents. We realized that in this day and age, we needed a better way to do so digitally. We partnered with the Blue Book network this year as they provided many other services to improve our business, particularly with our online presence.

We were at first looking to build a website, but recognized we could create an online presence, generate more exposure for our company and create more opportunities for the kind of work we are looking for. The Blue Book artists created a cool new logo brand for us that we are excited to put on our new business cards and paint on the side of our trucks. We also were given a URL so companies can more easily find us online. I am excited that we can edit our online content ourselves, and that those updates will be real time! And we are anxious to find out how SEO and social media play into all this.

We look forward to seeing what Dorn Eng. & Development can do to help you with your commercial and civil construction projects of any size, very pleased to serve any and all your construction needs. Thank You.
