When Rick Nichols, a Private Project Consultant, first contacted me and came into my office to discuss The Blue Book, I was a bit hesitate, everything sounded too good to be true. After multiple meetings, we decided to give it a try. With nothing to lose, we signed on and everything he has promised has come to fruition. The Blue Book has been able to assist us when we were having a hard time finding bidders on projects. I'm not sure how, but we have had much more success since we've partnered with The Blue Book and it has been a great working relationship between both companies.

Debbie Dempsey, a New York news specialist, has really been very helpful getting project Bid Sets uploaded and updated when other organizations have not been as responsive.

The process for transferring project information has been seamless. Rick reaches out and together, we make updates or he stops in and discusses upcoming work. We appreciate that he takes the time to travel to our office and that when we signed the contract, he did not disappear and we had to work with someone we were not familiar with.

The Blue Book has definitely worked out well for Meyer Group Architecture.

Thank you,
