TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I have had the distinct pleasure of "working with" Patricia Wheeler on three homes.

[Working with Patricia consisted of visiting various showrooms to select furniture, fabrics, light and plumbing fixtures, paintings with frames to match, window coverings, draperies, and decorative accessories, as well as having her oversee the installation or placement of the items selected in the home.]

Her expertise, on many levels, has saved me considerable time and money as well as from making costly design mistakes. She has a keen eye for color, proportion and balance, and she possesses the uncanny ability to combine different design styles to come up with a vision that is unique to her client. As a result, my homes are not only beautiful, but comfortable and functional as well.

I put my first home up for sale in a down market, and was faced with the reality that I might have to take a loss in order to sell it. Thanks in large part to Patricia's design skills, after three days I had seven offers. Six of the offers were well over the asking price. After seeing my home, everyone said no other came close. Realtors were coming by without a client just to see my home after hearing about it from other realtors. This home still holds the record for the highest dollar-per-square-foot property ever sold in Bay Hill.

My investment in Patricia has paid off in abundance. I highly recommend her. If you engage her, you will be glad you did!

Sincerely,
