

Absolute Contracting

12/5/2014

I have gone through several home improvement projects in the past several years with the majority of them leaving me with less than a satisfied experience. When I hired Absolute Contracting, I braced myself for more of the same. In fact, I told Kevin (McHugh) and Mark (Edwards) that I recently had problems with a company that turned out to be extremely unreliable. They both assured me that they were nothing like the companies I had worked with previously.

Needless to say, I had my doubts but, I must say, I was indeed pleasantly surprised. Not only did they provide me with a realistic timetable for completion, they updated me frequently with the status of the project and were able to adhere to the completion date without difficulty. Kevin, personally, went before the building department on several occasions in order to get the inspectors to come out to the site in a timely fashion so as not to delay the construction.

Absolute Contractors were able to seamlessly integrate all the subcontractors into the project and everyone involved were professional, personable, reliable and neat. As they worked to keep within their deadline, at no time did I witness any shortcuts being taken or issues with safety being compromised.

Though I don't think that anyone would consider remodeling/additions to be a fun experience, I can honestly say that the best contracting decision that I have ever made was hiring Absolute Contracting. They made my experience extremely pleasant and stress free. I would whole heartedly recommend them without reservations and will only use Absolute Contracting for all of my future remodeling needs.
