

To Whom It May Concern,

I am happy to provide this letter for reference for John G. Johnson Construction (JGJ). I had the pleasure of working with JGJ on the renovation of our Senior Living Community in Fairlawn, Ohio. The renovation project was over three million dollars and included the renovation of resident living units, as well as all common areas.

As we planned for the renovation, we were interested in selecting a contractor who would not only work as a partner to meet the project budget, but also help support opportunities for cost savings through value engineering suggestions. Of the most concern, however, was selecting a contractor who would be able to phase and complete work in occupied resident areas and units. JGJ conveyed to us that they could meet those goals and, in fact, they well exceeded our expectations.

The renovation was completed below our control budget and finished on schedule adjusting for the additional scope that we added. JGJ made several recommendations for opportunities for costs savings and assisted us through the process with thorough explanations of alternatives. The staff and contractors provided by JGJ were kind and respectful to the residents and always observant of the safety of staff, residents and visitors. We received many comments and notes from residents complimenting the JGJ team.

It is with confidence that I would recommend JGJ. I would be happy to speak to you regarding our experience.

Sincerely,

Danielle Maur
