To whom it may concern:

In 2013 Denney Excavating started a working relationship with Citizens Energy Group. Citizens Energy Group has hired Randy Denney and Denney Excavating to complete a variety of demolition and environmental projects. Notable projects include Kinetrex Energy removal of 130-foot-tall cold box structure, Indianapolis Coke Plant demolition which included 1.5 million square feet of demolition with multiple structures greater than 50 feet in height, and removal of the 128 foot water tower located in Clermont, Indiana. Along with several other specialty demolition projects.

Randy Denney and Denney Excavating has been a great partner with Citizens Energy Group, providing budgets and estimated durations for projects. When Citizens Energy Group contracts Denney Excavating for a project, Denney Excavating has completed projects in a timely manner with an organized, safe, and clean approach to the demolition and removal.
