RE: Letter of Recommendation

To Whom It May Concern:

Dayton Job Corps Center would like to express our sincere gratitude to Innovative Architectural Planners (IAP) for their recent fabrication and installation of our main entrance stair handrails and guardrails. This project was very important to our center, as we strove to stay true to the historic nature of our main building.

During the course of this project, we found IAP to be one of the most responsive contractors with whom we have had the pleasure of conducting business. Innovative Architectural Planners gave us exactly what we specified, while still offering their own professional recommendations in certain instances. The representative with whom we communicated was always courteous, approachable and honest. In the end, the project was completed ahead of schedule, due to the persistence of IAP's representative to its subcontractor.

The staff and students of the Dayton Job Corps sincerely appreciate all of the effort put into the completion of this project. The final project is exactly what was desired. Therefore, we look forward to working with IAP in the future and would highly recommend them.

Sincerely,
