I would like to Professionally, and personally, offer My sincerest public expression of My appreciation of the relationship I have been fortunate enough to initially establish, and, further develop over the past ten years or so with Josh Hillard. My testament is to Him as a person first but as well as His consistent and persistent work ethic. He has been fabricating and installing custom metal panel systems, including assisting in Design Build Projects with Me, over numerous years , on numerous projects. His personal gentlemanlike manner, coupled with both His level of intelligence and quality of craftsmanship in His trade is unquestionably at the top of the ACM Panel Industry. From initial phone call on a project through design, through field visits and measurement confirmation, through fabrication in His shop, through delivery and installation, in each and every project, evolved to the same and consistent end result. Following the sealant installations and then the eventual “ unveiling “ of the finish product when His crews remove the protective panel coverings, it is seriously an art in Progress that never evolves to anything short of a grand end product. I would very strongly recommend anyone in need of any type of ACM paneling fabrication and installation, to PLEASE do Yourself a great service and be sure to consider Josh as a participating member of Your Team. I feel so strongly about what I am providing testament to that I openly welcome any one’s call to discuss further, should You wish.

Greg

Sincerely,
