To all members of the Chamber.

We would like to recognize the construction firm of Miller, Miller and McLachlin for their quality workmanship and timeliness in project completion and their ability to hold costs to the project budget during our construction project at Saint Peters Church Mantzville. Barry Miller headed up the 1.5 million dollar accessibility addition to our church and Mike Brown was the site manager. They both treated us with respect, listening to our goals and needs and accomplished an amazing feat in adding space to all three levels of our church with minimal interruptions to our daily routine. They built around our preschool classes and maintained the safety of our children and teachers. They accommodated Sunday services, weddings and funerals while still moving the project forward. They worked closely with the Building Committee to recommend changes and solutions to problems which arose as construction progressed and supplied us with accurate bids throughout the project. We feel very lucky to have had the opportunity to work side by side with Mike and Barry and would recommend them to anyone seeking a reliable construction company.
