To whom it may concern:

It is my great pleasure to introduce Elstner Construction to you. Elstner Construction has provided construction and engineering services to the National Park Service for a wide array of construction projects including road, building and trail construction at Allegheny Portage Railroad National Historic Site, Fort Necessity National Battlefield, Friendship Hill National Historic Site, Johnstown Flood National Memorial and Flight 93 National Memorial.

As the National Park Service project manager, I oversaw the work of Elstner Construction throughout each project. I was extremely impressed with their thoroughness, desire to produce the best possible product and project management skills. This firm is the very definition of professional.

Sites remained open to the public throughout these projects, adding to the complexity. Elstner Construction flawlessly coordinated project work so as to never inconvenience or negatively impact the visitor's experience. Their knowledgeable project management staff expertly fielded problems as they arose while closely hewing to the schedule.

I would recommend Elstner Construction to any organization seeking quality construction managed with the highest degree of professionalism and would hire them again in a heartbeat. If you have further questions regarding our experience, please give me a call at (724) 329-5804.

Sincerely,

Leroy Renninger
Project Manager
