Miracle Method Improves Clean-ability in Hospital Bathrooms

The Problem

The Facility Manager at Geisinger Lewistown Hospital was seeking a solution to improve the maintenance and care of impossible-to-clean tile grout in bathrooms. Tile floors and walls in the bathrooms posed a sanitary issue due to the worn and difficult to clean, porous surfaces. Any renovation would require a quick turnaround to avoid disruption to employees and visitors in common areas of the hospital.

The Miracle Method Solution

Miracle Method's refinishing process was selected to upgrade the outdated bathrooms due to lower cost and quick turnaround. The renovation was scheduled over a weekend in order to return the busy restrooms, located outside the cafeteria, back to service by Monday morning.

The Process

To minimize downtime, Miracle Method technicians began work on a Friday evening. After the tile walls and floors were thoroughly cleaned, they were beautifully updated with Miracle Method's Natural Accents® stone-look finish. The final step included the application of a durable low VOC clear coat with silver-ion anti-microbial technology to protect the new finish from bacteria.

The Results

Miracle Method completed the project in just three days and helped the hospital avoid extensive replacement costs. The Facilities Manager was very impressed with the upgraded appearance the refinishing process provided. As a result of the work done at Geisinger Lewistown, their Scranton location asked for similar work. The use of the silver-ion antimicrobial clear coat was seen as an additional benefit and was used on the floors at Geisinger Scranton as well. The bathrooms not only have an updated look, but will be much easier to keep clean and maintain.
