The Problem

The cleaning staff at Georgia Institute of Technology expressed frustration over impossible to clean showers located in Crecine and ULC Dormitories. The Director of Maintenance was seeking an affordable solution that would restore the outdated, damaged and worn bathtubs and showers. Renovations needed to be completed in just eight weeks over the students' summer break.

The Miracle Method Solution

Miracle Method's Surface Refinishing process, an affordable alternative to removal and replacement, allowed the university to complete renovations during summer break. Scheduling around six other contractors was critical to adhere to the university's time constraints. Miracle Method technicians refinished 36 bathtubs and 36 tile floors in the very first week, placing them one week ahead of schedule.

The Process

Repairs were made to bathtubs and shower units, prior to refinishing. Shower stalls and bathtubs were then refinished in a white finish for a fresh look. To complete the renovations, Miracle Method's Natural Accents®, stone-look finish was applied to bathroom floors and showers.

The Result

Miracle Method exceeded the university's expectations, completing renovations in just seven weeks and the student residents returning from break were extremely pleased with the new look. Surface refinishing offered a time and cost savings alternative compared to removal and replacement. The cleaning staff was pleased with the results, as the refinishing process provided a more sanitary solution with long lasting durability and easier to maintain surfaces.
