

At the 2012 USSC (United States Sign Council) Sign Design Competition, the panel of judges awarded prize-winning status to Metro Sign & Awning's sign for Cask'n Flagon in the category of Building Sign – Illuminated (and yes, the tower lights on the right are in Fenway Park).

The USSC Sign Design Contest is one that judges real signs—signs that have been ordered by a customer and built to specification and signs that are being viewed by the general public on a daily basis.

Metro Sign & Awning's award-winning work was also featured in the 2013 USSC Calendar (in full color), and also displayed at the Sign World International in Atlantic City.
