RE: 1619 Walnut Street, Philadelphia

Dear Gene,

We recently shared in the success of the re-creation of 1619 Walnut Street in center city Philadelphia, and I'd like to point out that it was in large part due to the precise execution of our design by E.P. Guidi, Inc., that brought us that success. The finished product appears flawless.

Our design – and the built result – is deceptively simple, using common office building façade construction such as ribbon windows and metal panels. Its distinctive quality relies on the accuracy and crispness of the details. Your team showed the leadership, attention and commitment necessary to elevate this work to that of an award-winner. We can draw these things forever, but without the skills of a builder like you we'd have nothing much to show for it.

A hearty thank you and congratulations –

Sincerely,

Andrew M. Moroz, AIA
