I would like to take this opportunity to say that PDQ is an "awesome" company to do business!!!

My husband and I recently moved into a newly built home and discovered a structural issue. We noticed brick separation which was not due to settlement. Our builder was not helpful in resolving the issues. We engaged the services of a professional Engineer who determined that not only were the lintels insufficient supporting the roof line under the back porch but the wooden post supporting the entire corner section of our home was insufficient and had compressed not providing support. (The roof of our home is made up of concrete tiles hence the additional weight).

We reviewed several companies and decided on PDQ to perform the work. It's hard to choose a company in this field as we don't use these services on a regular basis. I have to say we made the right decision in contracting with PDQ.

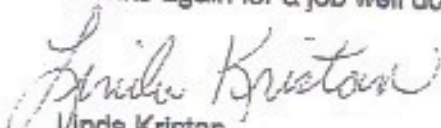

PDQ worked hand in hand with our Engineering in performing all the work in conformance with his specifications. PDQ installed new and larger lintels and replaced the wooden post with a steel beam-bricked the beam around and replaced cracked brick.

The PDQ team from the owner Chuck Sensabaugh to the workers onsite were so easy to work with. The lines of communication were the best I've had with a company. Chuck provided a timeline for the project. The crew showed up on time each day. The entire crew was courteous polite and new what they were doing. These are not day laborers doing the work. Knowledgeable and professional workers for each phase. They cleaned up, hauled away any debris and were just darn nice and pleasant folks. All were very patient with me as I had a million questions each day!

So if you are looking for a great company to do business with that knows what they are doing and does it well then PDQ is it! I would hire and recommend PDQ.

Chuck please feel free to use me as a reference.

Thanks again for a job well done!
