Re: Acousti Engineering Company

Don,

We have been involved in commercial/industrial construction for 30 years and Acousti Engineering is definitely in the forefront of the more professional, experienced contractors we've worked with.

As every project inevitably comes down to cost and scheduling, they have always been an integral force in our ability to procure and complete all manner of construction projects; tailored to their individual needs. The ability for Acousti to man, manage, and provide quality craftsmanship really sets them apart.

For more than 10 years, I have personally overseen design build projects using Acousti, from inception to occupancy. More often than not we are forced to produce and bid against other qualified companies and Acousti has always risen to the occasion with concise budgeting and value engineering expertise when necessary.

No matter what the project might entail, and without reserve, I would recommend Acousti Engineering to other general contracting firms.

Sincerely,

Richard C. Haskew, Jr.
