

"I have been in the construction industry for over 46 years

I have seen company's come and go however Buffalo Mechanical is always there when needed

They have been my mechanical sub on so many projects over the years that I can't remember them all.

I do remember though that they are always prepared to do what's ever is necessary to complete a project on time.

There are no eight to five attitudes with them and they are always willing and ready to achieve complete customer satisfaction.

If it is a warranty issue, a malfunction with equipment or whatever comes up there service department will dispatch a technician and will get them to the location as fast as possible to get the problem solved.

I highly recommend them and will continue to for any project that I can have them on "
