Dear Kevin and Lisa,

The Washington Patriot Construction, LLC(WA Patriot) team that collaborated on the University of Puget Sound Jones Hall/TI Admissions project, Neil, Ken, and Amy, would like to personally recognize your team's contribution to the success of the project. The project presented many unique design challenges and time constraints, and the support we received from your team was instrumental in its success. The renovations to the Admissions Department provides a warm and welcoming atmosphere for those who work in the building, students, faculty, and visitors to the campus. Please accept our gratitude and recognition of your team's contribution to the success of this project.

We would like to specifically thank you and your site crew for your efforts on the project. The phasing, schedule and budget were all significantly challenged with this project. It was much appreciated how you worked with the project team to develop solutions and worked through options to get the job done, and overcome the challenges .

THANKS again for a job well done. WA Patriot believes as a team we have accomplished the goals of a satisfied customer.

Sincerely,
